

To Everything There is a Season

It is going to be a season of change for the Alabama State Board of Respiratory Therapy and for myself personally. I have accepted a new position with another Agency and therefore, will no longer be your Executive Director as of January 14, 2020. First, it is important to me that you know how highly I think of the Board Members, Licensed Respiratory Therapists, and your profession as a whole. The fifteen years I spent as your Executive Director has been an extremely positive experience for me and a time I will always treasure. You see, your Board and profession are unique in that you are ALL really great people! This is not a joke or even an exaggeration. I am honored I had the privilege to serve you, especially during your first years of start up as a licensing Board. I believe that together we accomplished a great deal in establishing this Agency.

There is a selection process for a new provider of Administrative Services that is required by the Alabama Department of Purchasing and the Board is taking every step in the most time efficient manner possible. As soon as a new provider is awarded this contract by the Department of Purchasing, your new Staff and contact information will be posted on the Board's web site. There may be a slight delay in some Board processes/procedures during the brief transition period and we thank you in advance for your understanding and cooperation.

Your Board Members will ensure your continued success as the Alabama State Board of Respiratory Therapy. I am so very grateful for the season we shared and I am excited for both of our futures.

Sincerely,

Paula McCaleb

Executive Director
